How good is our resharpening?
The number of blades, combs & cutters that we sharpen is now tens of thousands a year—and growing rapidly. The rising demand speaks to the skill of our technicians and our service. Large blades are sharpened on a $65,000 automated lapping machine (we never grind them). The result is equal to (or better) than new. Combs and cutters are done on a high speed grinder.

Beware: Blades, combs & cutters are easily damaged during sharpening by those without proper machines and methods.

How do I prevent rusting?
Rusty blades and combs are harder to push through fiber and wool. And rusted blades and combs do not take or hold a cutting edge. Rust can start on high carbon steel in less than 3 hours. Just the weak acid from your fingers on blade or comb steel that’s not protected by lubricant is enough to cause rusting.

To prevent rust, never leave blades and/or combs more than an hour without a protective oil cover. After every use, clean, dry and coat them with oil (clipping or motor). Do not use spray-on coolants for this.

24 Hour Turnaround
May take longer during our busy months of May - August.

What to avoid…

Spray-on coolants and lubricants?
Coolants rapidly lower blade/comb/head temperatures…but they are not lubricants. So use coolants in addition to, not in lieu of, oil.

Lubricants in spray cans/bottles vary a great deal in the % of useful oil in them. The higher the % of oil the better the result will be.

What’s the most common abuse?
Failure to lubricate often enough with a quality oil. Why don’t users oil more often? Some think wet wool is a lubricant. It’s a myth. Water is a coolant only. Some fear that excess oil will stain white wool or hair. To prevent this apply only 3 drops to the blade or comb tips more often. Then run the machine for 3 seconds. Finally, use a rag to wipe surplus oil from the blades. Then resume work.

Do’s & don’ts for shipping blade sets...

Do’s:
1. Do include method of payment (credit card or check), name, return address, daytime phone number and species of animal for which the blades will be used.
2. Do keep blade sets together as pairs.
3. Do clean blades in soapy water and cover them lightly with oil to prevent rust and pitting.
4. Do wrap blades/combs/cutters in paper or wool felt to protect them.

Don’ts:
• Don’t allow the blades to rattle around in the box.
• Don’t use so much oil that it soaks through the box.

Warning: Blades/cutters/combs that have been sharpened by inferior methods or inexperienced people may be damaged to such an extent that they can never be restored to a satisfactory cutting capability. The same is true of blades that have become too heavily pitted by rust.
